VOL. V.....NO. 1379. NEW-YORK, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1856. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Commissioner of Repairs and Supplies, the Commissioner of Streets and Lamps, the Street Commissioner, and the City Inspector. I think this change is one which will commend itself to the City taxpayers, as it must, of necessity, save much extravagant and unnecessary expenditure. As at present organized, the Departments are constantly at war with each other. They are all charged with duties in many respects very similar, and they should all be in one Bureau. Their conflicts have heretofore been fought out at the expense of the City Treasury, and the cost has been a large burden upon it. There are many other good reasons for the change which the new law contemplates, which I shall endeavor to embody and present—but I hope the good sense of the Legislature will anticipate them by the early enactment of the bill.

QUARANTINE STORE-HOUSES.

I notice that the Assembly has concurred in the resolutions offered by Senator Strahan, instructing and requesting our Representatives in Congress to urge an appropriation to rebuild and enlarge the warehouses provided by the United States for the storage of infected goods ordered to be landed at the Quarantine grounds. I hope these resolutions will be heeded by our Representatives, and that they will insist that an adequate appropriation be promptly made. The evident northern course of the yellow fever—that scourge of the South—admonishes us to provide for the possible emergency that it may be imported into the port of New-York. The present storage accommodations at Quarantine are entirely inadequate to facilitate the Health Officer in his efforts to prevent the progress of infection. It is only by the removal of the cargo and the thorough fumigation of the vessel that yellow fever can be expelled from the shipping, and there is not now provided for that purpose one-quarter of the necessary space. Should the yellow fever reach New-York, and become as vindictive in its character as it was in Norfolk and Portsmouth last Summer, the daily mortality would be a little over fifteen thousand. A timely appropriation and its efficient application may do much to enable the Health Officer to avert such a calamity. Longer neglect and indifference may make it impossible for him to retain the infection within the bounds of Quarantine, and involve not only a frightful loss of human life, but the destruction for a time of the commerce and business of the City.

LEO.

ALBANY, Monday, Feb. 18.

In the Senate there was little done to-day that would justify an extended notice.

Among the bills passed were those to incorporate the New-York and Philadelphia Steam Navigation Company; to provide for recording notices of lis pendens in the County of New-York; and to appropriate the avails of the Annual State Tax to the Common Schools.

VESSELS ARRIVAL.

Senator Barss presented the petition of more than three hundred male citizens of the County of Kings, asking that they may enjoy the elective franchise. They are colored persons, and be unreasonable as not to be able to realize that they are not equally as capable of voting intelligently as a host of ignorant and depraved persons that they annually see congregated about the ballot boxes. These appeals are of yearly occurrence. I believe they are never heeded beyond a reference to a Judiciary Committee, where they are buried for the balance of the session. And yet I do not know as it would be well to discontinue their presentation. Time rolls its ceaseless course—in time this honest prayer for justice must be heeded. "The Gods are in the sky and the sky is over all." So may the plea for the right yet reach over the high places where it has so long been unheard.

A WEEK'S VACATION.

The Senate has concurred in the Assembly resolution to adjourn over from Wednesday, the 20th, to Tuesday, the 26th inst.

I shall fail, if I attempt, to express my high appreciation of this renewed evidence of the exalted patriotism and intelligence of the Senate.

WESTERN HOUSE OF REFUGE.

Mr. RICHARDSON, from the Committee on Finance, made a report in writing, (and introduced two bills relative to the Western House of Refuge and for juvenile delinquents,) wherein the Committee say that although the character of the managers for integrity of purpose is above suspicion, still the amount of expenditures so far exceeds the original estimates of expenditures that they tendered the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That the Managers of the Western House of Refuge for Juvenile Delinquents report to the Senate on or before the 15th day of March next, a detailed statement of the application and disbursement of the several appropriations made to said institution for its management and support, since the opening thereof in August, 1849, for the reception of juvenile delinquents, to the 1st of January, 1856, which report shall be duly verified by the President or managing officer and the Treasurer of the institution.

Resolved, further, That the Comptroller transmit to the Senate at an early day, copies of all reports and accounts made and filed in the Comptroller's office by the Building Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act establishing the Western House of Refuge for Juvenile Delinquents, passed May 8, 1849, of the expenditures of the several appropriations made by the Legislature, from time to time, for building purposes.

One of the bills introduced compels the managers to report expenditures of all nature, more with regard to details than heretofore. The second bill appropriates the sum of $10,000 for deficiencies.

INSANE ASYLUMS.

Mr. BRADFORD introduced a bill making appropriations for the support of insane criminals. It authorizes, in pursuance of chap. 456 of laws of 1855, the Treasurer to pay on the warrant of the Comptroller whatever sums may be duly expended for the support of insane criminals on such expenditures being duly certified by the proper officers.

BUILDING CORPORATIONS.

Mr. PRYOR introduced a bill amending the law of 1853, "To authorize the formation of Corporations for the Erection of Buildings."

The first section is amended by allowing the corporators, in addition to the powers already granted, to build "docks or bulkheads, and reclaiming, grading, regulating and improving any lands, bounding on any navigable waters in this State," and allows an increase of capital to the amount of $1,000,000.

Section 14 is amended by adding to the section the following words: "The Trustees of such Company may purchase real estate necessary for their purposes, and issue stock to the amount thereof, in payment therefor, and the stock so issued shall be declared and taken to be full stock, and not liable to any further calls, neither shall the holders thereof be liable for any further payments."

In lieu of the 23d section the following is inserted: "Every Company formed under this act shall have the right to issue their bonds to an amount not exceeding three-fourths of their capital stock, and secure the same by mortgage on their real estate; and the unfunded or floating debt of such Company shall never exceed twenty-five per cent. of its capital actually paid in, and if the indebtedness of any such Company shall exceed the amount above specified, the trustees of such Company assenting thereto shall be personally and individually liable for such excess to the creditors of such Company.

A QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE.

In the Assembly, Mr. THOMAS rose this morning to a question of privilege, concerning certain reports that were upon the members' desks. It appears that by some means the report of Senator UTHAN, in the Senate, upon the bill "Regulating the Repairs and Superintendence of the Canals," has been printed with Mr. UTHAN's name stricken out, and the word "Senate" changed to "Assembly," so that the report goes out as the report of the House Committee on Canals. Mr. THOMAS stated that he had committed with three of the members of the Canal Committee, and they know nothing of it. He wished some explanation.

Mr. GUNN moved to refer to a select committee for investigation, but after an animated discussion a motion of Mr. SIMMS to refer to the Canal Committee prevailed. Mr. DIXON, Chairman of the Printing Committee, disavowed all knowledge of the matter, and it remains a mystery for the Canal Committee to clear up.

NEW MEASURES.

Four bills were introduced to-day, and but one or two of them possess any general interest.

Mr. HASBROUCK brought in a bill for the incorporation of Stage and Omnibus Companies, in conformity to the general laws respecting the formation of incorporated companies. Its provisions are quite similar to the act incorporating Telegraph Companies. It does not apply to cities.

Mr. BUCKLEY introduced a bill allowing Agricultural Societies that have broken up to reorganize.

THE NEW-YORK EYE INFIRMARY.

A memorial has been received from the officers of the New-York Eye Infirmary, asking an appropriation of $5,000, to aid in completing their buildings, the cost of which will be $10,000. They represent that the appropriation made in 1854 of $10,000, with $22,325 raised by the Directors, has been expended, and they still need the above to complete their building. They ask the appropriation, with the provision that the remaining sum be raised.

THE MANHATTAN GAS COMPANY.

Mr. EARLE proposes the formation of a select Committee of three to examine into the affairs of the Manhattan Gas Co., with power to send for persons and papers, to report by the 15th of March next. His resolution lies over under the rule.

THE COMMITTEE OF NINE.

Mr. STINOLA offered a resolution, for the appointment of a Committee to examine and report bills proper, to refer to Committees to report complete. It is early in the session for such a proposition, and will hardly meet with favor for a week or two to come.

THE COLONIAL HISTORY.

Mr. G. A. DUNLEY called up to-day his resolution to furnish members, officers, and Reporters with a copy of the Colonial History, the remaining copies to be left with the Regents of the University, to be distributed by them, except 250 copies with the Secretary of State. After a spicy debate, three copies were voted each member, and the remaining copies left with the Secretary of State, with no directions as to their disposition. There are to be ten volumes, five of which are published, and the State selling price is $3 a copy. It is said that some 3,000 copies of the edition are on hand.

NAVIGATION OF HARLEM RIVER.

The House to-day passed Mr. EDDY's resolution asking information from the State Engineer and Surveyor as to the practicability of rendering the Harlem River navigable for all classes of vessels.

SELECT COMMITTEES.

The Speaker announced the following Select Committees directed by the Houses. Upon the bill making the Fire Marshal in New-York an elective office, Messrs. RAY, REILLY, DIXON, MARSH and W. R. SMITH. On the bill to fix a standard quality of gas, and provide for the appointment of Gas Inspectors, Messrs. HASBROUCK, DEGELIA, SNOW, HAYES and CURTIS.

AFTERNOON SESSIONS.

The proposition for afternoon sessions was discussed pretty fully, but the House concluded that as most of the work is done in Committees, they needed more time, and the matter was laid on the table, and will probably rest there for the rest of this month.

THE KANSAS MESSAGE.

Mr. FRENDERGAST called up his resolution to create a Select Committee upon the communication from Kansas, transmitted by the Governor a few days since. Mr. VAN SANTVOORD moved to amend to refer it to the Committee to which would be referred the part of the Governor's annual Message relating to Kansas.

Mr. REILLY moved an indefinite postponement, which was lost—36 to 39, and the question pending, the House adjourned.

THE ATLAS AND ARGUS.

As I have before intimated, the union of these two papers has been finally consummated. Mr. VAN DYCK withdrew from the Atlas; Mr. JOHNSON backed out of the Argus, leaving the union jack in the possession of Messrs. COMSTOCK & CASSIDY. I understand that Mr. CASSIDY, in abandoning the Atlas, casts off the corner stone upon which he has so long sought to erect a party structure, and that Mr. COMSTOCK will relax a trifle in his Hard-Shell proclivities. The joint product of these mutual relaxations will be a mongrel species of Half-Shell.

It is thought by those who have negotiated this union to a final consummation, that it is to be the forerunner of a union of the Democratic fractions and factions—but I think it will not be so. Neither of the two parties will be willing to give full credence to such a paper as the Argus and Atlas is likely to be, and lacking the confidence of all men I do not see how it is to be very efficient in bringing together the discordant Democratic elements.

From the first number of the new paper I cut the following extract. It refers to a statement made by C. G. RUSS, that in the town elections the Hard-Shell Democrats had acted with the Hindoos:

"This going down stairs into the darkness of a Subterranean Lodge, in pursuit of 'Nationality,' may suit certain molested politicians, whose instincts lead them to work under ground. Those who live in the upper air, work in the daylight, and earn their livelihood by tilling the surface of the earth, (and not by mining and countermining,) prefer to look for Nationality at a higher point, and through a wider horizon, than the walls of a secret Lodge affords, and by a purer light than the rays of a dark lantern."

Evidently the Atlas and Argus has a just appreciation of the contemptible and unnatural position which its party has occupied during the past year.

The Storm in the Western Section of the State.

From the Medina Tribune extra, Feb. 17.

The magnitude and extent of the recent severe snow storms in the Western portion of the State are but little known here.

The range of the storm appears to have been across the southwest corner of the State, interrupting the travel, more especially of the Buffalo and New-York City Branch of the New-York and Erie Railroad from Hornellsville to Buffalo, the State Line Railroad from Dunkirk to Buffalo, and blocking up for several days nearly all the public highways leading to or from those roads, or leading in directions parallel to them.

On the Buffalo and New-York City Railroad, some forty miles east of Buffalo, the track is laid through a deep cut, and at these points the snow filled in the gorge to the depth of from ten to twenty-five feet. Of course, trains could not penetrate this vast embankment, without being lost sight of, and several were for a time lodged in it and subsequently drawn out. After all the usual modes had been resorted to and found ineffectual, a force of four hundred laborers was employed, and the track opened by pitching the vast mass of snow out by the shovelful.

Trains from the east reached the Castile Station on the Buffalo and New-York City Railroad, and also Dunkirk by the old road, on Wednesday last, and the passengers on each, after a delay of a day or more—the one class awaiting the opening of the road from Dunkirk to Buffalo, the other class awaiting a similar result between Castile and Buffalo—took the back track to Hornellsville, and those that had been at Castile went to Dunkirk and vice versa, each class being under the impression that the other track would be the soonest opened. All reached Buffalo, however, about the same time, on Thursday or Friday.

Newspapers from this city had not arrived at points of destination in Alleghany or Wyoming Counties on or twelve days after date, and then a fund of interesting dates poured in. Letters were a fortnight on the route, when in fair travel, one day and a half affords ample margin.

The public thoroughfares were almost, and for several days quite impassible. The snow in many of those avenues is up to the top rail of the fence, and packed in dense enough to sustain teams. The highways in many places are abandoned, fences taken down, and the road laid out through the fields. With a little warm weather, the highways will again be impassible as if completely blockaded. Access to farm-yards and barns has only been attained by days' labor through snow-drifts.

The storms for three weeks past, and especially the storm of Tuesday last, have been the most severe on record. It is claimed by writers that such storms are blessings. If so, the disguise in which these have been clothed is yet to be removed.

Destructive Fire at Medina—American Hotel Destroyed.

From the Medina Tribune extra, Feb. 17.

At about 5 o'clock this morning a fire was discovered in the southwest wing of the American Hotel, in this village, apparently having an accidental origin. The alarm was given, and a half-dozen of our citizens were soon on the spot, battling hard to quench the flames. But we had no organized fire company, and before the engines could be brought into use, or any considerable force of men collected to arrest the progress of the fire, it had so far extended into the interior of the building as to be entirely beyond control, and all efforts to quench the flames were soon abandoned.

There was but little wind, but that blew from the west, driving the flames into the interior from room to room, eastward, until the entire building was enveloped in flames. Then the work of destruction was accomplished. The hotel furniture was nearly all saved. The guests and boarders succeeded in saving their trunks, clothing and other valuables.

Mr. BRADFORD, the proprietor of the hotel, and his lady and family, were the heaviest sufferers. The loss upon the building, furniture, &c., is estimated at from $4,000 to $5,000. It is rumored that the hotel was not insured, though it may be otherwise.

By Telegraph to the New-York Daily Times.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Francis P. Blair Going to the Pittsburg Convention—Secretary Davis' Instructions to Colonel Sumner.

Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 18.

FRANCIS P. BLAIR will go to the Pittsburg Convention from the Republican Association of Baltimore. This is significant.

The Kansas documents received in the Senate, today, contain JEFFERSON DAVIS' instructions to Col. SUMNER, directing him to use all his available force if necessary, to preserve public order.

The Command of the Merrimac—Award by the Printing Committee of the House.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 18.

Capt. PRENDERGAST has been ordered to the command of the steamer Merrimac, vice GREGORY, relieved at his own request. If the vessel works as well as it is anticipated, she will continue the trial trip to Europe.

It is stated that the Printing Committee of the House of Representatives has awarded the job of binding the extra documents of that body to Mr. WILLIAMS, of Toledo, Ohio. There were at least thirty desperate contestants for this very profitable job.

XXXIVth CONGRESS—First Session.

SENATE.....WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 18.

Mr. HAMLIN gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill to amend and consolidate the navigation, revenue and collection laws.

Mr. WILSON offered a resolution (which lies over under the rule,) calling on the President for full information as to Kansas affairs, and what measures have been taken to prevent the illegal interference with the rights of the people of the territory by persons not residing therein.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the resolution calling for the journal of proceedings of the Naval Board.

The discussion of the resolution was not concluded when a Message from the President was announced, in reply to the resolution calling for information concerning Kansas affairs. Except the instructions of the Secretary of War to Colonel SUMNER, there is little or no new information in the President's—most of the documents transmitted by him having been heretofore published. A letter from Governor ROBINSON to the President alludes to the condition of affairs as threatening; gives some details, and, in proof of his assertions, incloses his correspondence with other territorial officers. Among the correspondence inclosed is a letter from Colonel SUMNER to Governor SHANNON, dated Dec. 6, in reply to one asking him to come to Lawrence. Colonel SUMNER wrote that he could march with his command in a few hours, and would meet the Governor at Delaware Crossing, if necessary.

The instructions of the Secretary of War to Col. SUMNER are dated Feb. 15. They direct him to be in readiness to march to the scene of disturbance, if the Governor finds the ordinary course of judicial proceedings and the power vested in the United States Marshal inadequate, for the suppression of insurrection or the invasion of armed forces; but it cautions him to act with extreme prudence in the premises.

Mr. TOUCEY expressed his warm approval of the course pursued by the Executive, and hoped he would be sustained by every law-abiding man. The President had done neither more nor less than his duty on that subject.

Mr. WILSON said the correspondence totally misrepresented affairs in Kansas. He contended that the border ruffians had carried the elections there at the point of the bowie-knife.

He had not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Jan. 18.

Mr. WORTENDYKE presented a memorial from the New-York Chamber of Commerce praying for an appropriation for the improvement and repair of the Public Warehouses at Quarantine. Also, from the same, for an extension of the reciprocity principle between the United States and Canada.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Fifteen thousand copies of the Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, twenty thousand of the President's Annual Message and accompanying documents, and ten thousand copies of the Report o the Coast Survey were ordered printed.

Sixty thousand copies of the Mechanical portion of the Report of the Commissioner of Patents was ordered printed.

On motion of Mr. GROW, the President was requested, if not incompatible with the public interest, to transmit to this House a copy of the laws passed by the Legislature of Kansas, and copies of all the Executive proceedings and correspondence of the Governor of that Territory.

Mr. LANE, delegate from Oregon, introduced a bill to enable the people of that Territory to form a State government, preliminary to admission into the Union.

Referred to the Committee on Territories.

The Senate bill, relieving the Commissioner of Pensions of the duty of signing Bounty Land Warrants and Certificates, and authorizing the employment of a suitable person for that purpose, passed. It was stated that the Commissioner has rheumatism in his hand, and that ten thousand documents have accumulated unsigned.

The Committee of Ways and Means was authorized to employ a permanent Clerk.

Mr. DUNN introduced a bill reëstablishing the boundaries of Kansas, and prohibiting Slavery in that Territory and Nebraska.

Referred to Committee on Territories.

HALIFAX, Monday, Feb. 18.

JAMES CAMPBELL, a young gentleman of this city, who arrived in England by the Canada, on her last outward trip, writes to C. MORRISON & Co., of Halifax, as follows:

"LIVERPOOL, Jan. 23.—The weather here has been very severe during the past week. The Pacific was obliged to put into the Shannon River on the way out of the channel, and the Royal Charter, Australian steamship, was forced to put back to Plymouth."

This is all. No particle of news here to corroborate it.

The United States Steamer Arctic at Halifax—No News of the Pacific.

HALIFAX, N. S., Monday, Feb. 18.

The Arctic arrived here at 2 o'clock this afternoon, under sail, with propeller fast. She has been no further east than this point.

As yet, we have no news here of the Pacific.

BOSTON, Monday, Feb. 18—2½ P. M.

The Canada up to 5 o'clock this evening, had not been signaled from the lower telegraph stations, and it is hardly probable she will arrive before morning. A strong northwest gale has been blowing for the last forty hours.

CONTINUATION OF CANADA'S NEWS.

We know nothing of KARS, excepting that the town is occupied by two Russian battalions, whilst another remained in the camp formerly held by MUSTAPHA's army. The captured guns and munitions of KARS have been removed to Alexandropol. Invalid Turks have been sent to the Hospital at OTTA. The roads were closed by snow.

ENGLAND.

On Thursday, Jan. 31, the Queen of England opened Parliament with the usual ceremonies.

The persons most noticed in the gorgeous assemblage in the House of Lords, were Mr. BUCHANAN in citizen's dress, the Turkish Minister because he wore a fez, and the Haytien Ambassador on account of his color.

In the House of Lords, the Earl of GOSFORD moved the address, and the Earl of ARTHUR seconded.

The Earl of DERBY did not oppose, but considered the Royal Speech bare, cold and meagre, saying it ought to have referred to the "state of our affairs with America, with India, and the Colonies, and to the 'Bill of Bars.'" In carrying out the Foreign Enlistment scheme, the Government, he conceived, had evaded the spirit of the Municipal law of the United States, and he hoped the apology offered would be received. He regretted, however, that there was not a conciliatory paragraph introduced into the Speech in reference to the subject. The whole Speech, he said, was redolent of water-gruel.

The Earl of CLARENDON replied as follows:

"I wish to take an early opportunity of referring to the state of our relations with the United States. In my opinion, there can be no doubt as to the common sense view of the obligations of the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, and yet it is upon the interpretation of that Treaty that a difference of opinion has arisen. In such a case a correspondence is carried on, and I lost no time in offering to refer the whole question to the arbitration of any third power, both sides agreeing to be bound by the decision. That offer has not yet been accepted. It has been renewed, and I hope, upon further consideration, the United States Government will agree to it.

"With respect to recruiting in the United States, it would not have added a friendly solution to allow it from the Throne, inasmuch as the correspondence must have been produced, and correspondence still continues. The most recent demands of the Government of the United States have been received but two days, and are not yet in a state to be made public. The origin of the trouble was this: At the beginning of the war, numerous foreigners in the United States applied to the British Government for permission to join the army in the East; in consequence of which, instructions were sent to the Government of Nova Scotia to consider whether persons from the United States could be allowed to enlist. Mr. CRAMPTON was at the same time informed that the anxious as England was for recruits, she was still more anxious that there should be no violation or infringement of the municipal law of the United States. An agency office was opened, and upon complaint being made, Mr. CRAMPTON desired it might be made public that the British Government did not recruit or raise soldiers in the United States; and he made known his instructions to Mr. MASON, who then expressed himself satisfied. Judge KANE had decided that to pay the passage of a man to a foreign port and then enlist him was no violation of international law, and those persons whose passages were paid to Canada West as volunteers were not bound to enter the British service. A correspondence of a most very amicable nature had been place between us two Governments, but the last transactions to which it refers are by-gone transactions, and from the commencement the British Government has disclaimed infringing in any way the laws of the United States. With the sentiment of Mr. CRAMPTON his Government is perfectly satisfied, for I am convinced that neither intentionally nor accidentally did he violate any law of the United States."

Lord CLARENDON then went on to say that he hoped the difficulty was susceptible of a peaceful solution, and that no slight was meant by the non-mention of America in the Queen's speech.

In the House of Commons the address in reply to the Queen's speech was moved by Mr. BYNG, and seconded by Mr. BATESS.

Admiral NAPIER took his seat as the new member from Southwark, and immediately moved for papers relating to his Baltic Expedition.

Mr. BAILEY gave notice of a resolution to the effect, that the employment of agents for enlistment in foreign countries lowers the dignity of Great Britain, and is calculated to endanger peaceful relations with other States.

From which it appeared [illegible] all the trouble was between what is known [illegible] Eddy Council and the Honeyfuglers. The [illegible] Council is the Governor Johnson party, and [illegible] against the former. Two-fifths [illegible] Council belong to the Eddy party, and [illegible] those who participated at the last National [illegible]

Subsequent to that meeting the Eddy Council [illegible] polled a number of members who were [illegible] swallow the platform, twelfth section and all. [illegible] expelled members formed a new Council [illegible] considered themselves the old Council. They [illegible] known as the Honeyfuglers. Now comes [illegible] the feeling between them has been [illegible] such extent as to create a separation in the National [illegible] which was one cause of the trouble to-day.

At 3 o'clock they gathered again in the [illegible] when Mr. Brewster took the Chair, and [illegible] arrived in the meantime, took a seat [illegible] claimed the right to preside. No sooner was this known than there was a breaking of hands, and every preparation for a scene.

Observing that matters were not likely to go [illegible] smoothly, Mr. Freeman arose and [illegible] the help of God and his own right arm to [illegible] keep his place. He said he was there by [illegible] and he would not yield.

Immediately after this declaration, about [illegible] thirds of the delegates arose, and commenced [illegible] ing in a very loud tone as rules. Such [illegible] never before heard even in Washington.

During the scramble Mr. Freeman [illegible] Honeyfuglers on the rostrum, which [illegible] entire Pennsylvania delegation to their [illegible] possible assist in the melee.

While this was going on, some one moved an adjournment to Sansom-street Hall at [illegible] morrow, which was said to be carried, and the [illegible] brethren separated into [illegible] and [illegible] around the discussion in a moderate tone [illegible] with less interest.

Such is the "union and harmony" of the [illegible] Council. It is claimed that the difference [illegible] tween the Councils in Pennsylvania, and that [illegible] sident BANNARD will prevent a quorum [illegible] assemble to-morrow. I do not agree with this. It [illegible] true that the trouble was apparently caused by the Pennsylvanians, but it was on the Slavery issue, and that is with them yet.

"Present appearances are decidedly against the [illegible] coming to any working agreement on a platform. Some purpose to leave out the twelfth section altogether, and say nothing about Slavery; but the prominent men on both sides say the question must be met. You need not be surprised if the result should be an adjournment of this Convention without reporting a platform, and a postponement of the Nominating Convention.

The Pennsylvania Delegation are now in session arranging for to-morrow. The delegation from the New-England States are also in session, and many of them favor a postponement of the Nominating Convention. The New-York Delegation are in session, but none have arrived at any definite conclusion.

Half-past Ten, P. M.—The New-York Delegation Caucus has just adjourned. They spent no question of particular importance under consideration, with the exception of filling up their delegation from the Westchester contested seat, which they decided in favor of SAMMONDS.

The New-England men are still in session.

Half-past Eleven O'Clock P. M.—[illegible] members in Caucus on night desired to admit [illegible] the Twelfth Section to the test.

The Northern delegates in Caucus decided that the Twelfth Section must come out, if they remain in. They will not go into the convention with a Slavery platform under any circumstances.

What shall be done is now the subject of [illegible] debate in the Girard House. The impression [illegible] is, that it will be best to dissolve the National Council, and let each State resolve itself into a [illegible] itself. No one has any hope of success.

So they stand at present, and [illegible] continue to stand. There will probably be no [illegible] to-morrow's proceedings, and [illegible] be dissolved a nonentity without a platform [illegible] slave or free territory.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Daily Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, Feb. 18—P. M.

The National members of the National Council were held to-day in Franklin Hall. A large number of delegates were present, but no business of importance was transacted. The business of importance will not be got some before the Council. The members are [illegible] Slavery this evening. An effort will be made to [illegible] peace with secret meetings, both of the [illegible] in the National Convention, to adjourn [illegible] probably be admitted to seats in the Convention.
